

THE HUTCHINSON NEWS

LETTERS | Opinion This piece expresses the views of its author(s), separate from those of this publication.

Freedom of speech can be a double-edged sword

Staff Writer The Hutchinson News

Updated Nov. 2, 2016, 7:15 p.m. CT

Colin Kaepernick is entitled to express his feelings, and I am free to boycott the team he plays for.

People who make their living performing before the public, whether they be athletes or movie stars, need to be aware that the way they express themselves may potentially devastate their careers. Freedom of expression is very often a double-edged sword. If you offend your audience, don't be surprised if they no longer consume the product you produce.

GREGORY H. BONTRAGER

Hutchinson

Need a news break? Check out the all new PLAY hub with puzzles, games and more!